Europcar enhances its flexibility by launching a virtual portal for employees

Europcar, the European leader in car rental, is launching a remote access portal for its employees. The portal allows all authorized users to gain access to the Europcar management network from any public or private computer with an Internet connection, while maintaining an ultra-secure connection. This new tool offers new perspectives and enhances flexibility for Europcar employees, since they can access all of their applications, regardless of their business activity or geographical location.

Thanks to this new portal, Europcar employees can work from home or when they are away on business. They gain access to their e-mails and calendars, as well as to the Europcar management system.

Thanks to this innovative tool, Europcar is enhancing business continuity in every situation and communications among its internal departments and with its external partners.
